hary notices of the meeting it was asserted that some emphatic statements would be made by the various speakers as to the methods employed by the companies to increase dividends. It was said that the companies would be openly charged with fraudulent practices. The speakers, however, were extremely temperate and judicious in their language.

About 150 men attended the meeting, and J. Bhiac was appointed chairman. In opening the proceedings he briefly outlined the object of the meeting, and suggested that one of the purposes of the gathering should be the drawing up of an appropriate set of resolutions, which should be presented to the Mayor and Aldermen to-day. He then introduced ex-Senator F. M. Bixby, who had been invited to make an address. At the outset Mr. Bixby suggested that the discharged employes should form themselves into a permanent organization and should appoint a committee to go to Albany for the purpose of seeking the ald of the Legislature in preventing the continuance of a trust that was detrimental not only to gas employes should be taken to further municipal control of the lighting of the city.
